Dear Family and Friends,

Welcome to our annual Schools for Haiti "Making a Difference" event. Please accept our heartfelt thanks for your friendship and your support of our schools.

While tonight will be a night of fun, it is also our major fundraising event for the year. The proceeds tonight will feed and educate over 1100 Haitian children in our five schools from Pre-Kindergarten through high school, two important elements that otherwise are not available to these children. For many, their only meal each day is the lunch we serve, something we take for granted, and they are blessed with an education which is not provided by the Haitian government. We provide an income for our staff, teachers, and principals and it is all because of your generosity and caring. Our children want to go to school, and you, our friends, make that a reality for them.

Please join us in expressing our thanks to the special people who helped make tonight a success, including the event committee, our sponsors and our very special friends who have supported our efforts for many years. Your generosity has helped so many children and without your continued support, all this would not be possible.

Enjoy the evening and let the bidding begin!

Fondly,

Gil and Bonnie Bailie

Charity Auctions

Donors who purchase items at a charity auction may claim a charitable contribution deduction for the excess of the purchase price paid for an item over its fair market value. The donor must be able to show, however, that he or she knew that the value of the item was less than the amount paid. For example, a charity may publish a catalog, given to each person who attends an auction, providing a good faith estimate of items that will be available for bidding. Assuming the donor has no reason to doubt the accuracy of the published estimate, if he or she pays more than the published value, the difference between the amount paid and the published value may constitute a charitable contribution deduction.
